“How to be a Farmer & a Park Keeper”

The theme of this year’s conference is to provoke a debate on how the panel have become a Farmer and/or Park Keeper which is probably the only way to get support in the future in a post Brexit world and how they think you can make the best of the opportunities to develop your business.

There will be ample opportunities for your questions. If you would like to register your questions before the debate, please hand these to the Chairman on your arrival.

WELCOME ADDRESS – Mike Cluley

Mike is a Director of Carver Knowles and a Chartered Surveyor working for farmers and landowners on matters involving agricultural property, valuations, compulsory purchase and compensation and the Basic Payment Scheme.

CHAIRMAN – Clive Davies

Following last year’s success we have asked Clive to “stand on” and keep the show rolling in his own inimitable style.

THE SPEAKERS

Adam Henson – Farmer and TV Presenter

Well known Farmer and Park Keeper who has diversified to a great extent on his Cotswold Farm Park and a household name with his regular TV appearances on BBC Countryfile. Adam is in the process of adding a restaurant to his Farm Park.

Stuart Roberts - NFU Vice President

Hertfordshire farmer Stuart Roberts is a third generation arable and livestock farmer who has worked for DEFRA and the Food Standards Agency and has held senior management roles within the meat supply chain.

Stuart farms in a family partnership with his wife Emma and his father Howard. Hammonds End Farm supplies grain to more than 50 artisan mills and bakers throughout the UK.

Geoff Sansome – Natural England Head of Agriculture

Geoff and his family have been Worcestershire farmers for over 200 years at their mixed farm in Hawford near Claines.

Geoff has 30 years’ experience advising farmers as both an agronomist and environmentalist with ADAS before joining Natural England in 2010. He is a Nuffield Faming Scholar and an Agricultural graduate from the University of Wales.

VOTE OF THANKS - Peter Snodgrass

Peter is a Partner at Shakespeare Martineau. He advises on all aspects of rural property law.

The NFU wish to thank all our sponsors
